

Reading Bi-Weekly Update

January 8, 2019

“Everyone can be great... because anyone can serve”

“Everyone can be great...because anyone can serve!” Share your greatness at the annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service on Saturday, January 19th, 2019. There will be a variety of community service projects for different ages, skills and interests. Watch the ReadingCares Facebook page or website for more information and sign-up opportunities.

The Human Relations Advisory Committee of Reading would like to invite you to attend our Annual Martin Luther King Day Breakfast and Celebration at the Reading Memorial High School Performing Arts Center on January 21st from 9:30-11:30. Our theme this year is: "Raising Voices to Silence Hate."

The morning will start with a light breakfast at 9:30 am in the "Main Street" area of the Performing Arts Center, where local organizations will have tables to highlight their missions and work. The program will begin at 10am in the auditorium, and will include local choirs, bands, and more!

2019 Martin Luther King Day Celebration

January 21st, 2019

9:30 am - 11:30 am

Reading Memorial High School Performing Arts Center

Lindsay's Puppet Pals

Saturday, January 19 @ 2:30 – 3:30 pm

Filled with active audience engagement, and unique characters, this series of charming short stories will delight all ages!

A Celebration of Mount Auburn Cemetery

Tuesday, January 22 @ 7:00 - 8:30 pm

Join the editors of Dead in Good Company: A Celebration of Mount Auburn Cemetery for stories about this distinguished burial ground.

Exam Cram: Library Open late Just for High Schoolers

Wednesday, January 23 @ 5:00 - 11:00 pm

For one night only, beginning at 5:00pm, we'll provide midterm study space, brain food, de-stressing activities, and coffee!

Friends Concert Series

Saturday, January 26 @ 2:00 - 3:00 pm

Join us for the first program in the free Friends Of the Reading Public Library Concert Series featuring the SunBy Duo. This will be a piano and cello program. Next concert Feb. 16.

Plus much more! www.readingpl.org/calendar